BANK CLEARINGS GO UP THIS WEEK WITH OPENINGS

Dressmakers, Tailors and Milliners Enjoy Their Ante-Easter Harvest.

Seed Dealers Report Heavy Purchases for Week.

RETAIL BUSINESS IS BOOMING

Clearings this week $681,752
Clearings last week 678,079

With the spring millinery openings in full blast the business of this week shows an increase over that of last week. The large stock of the latest creations in millinery has set the women of the city to talking, and, of course, the pocketbooks were opened to purchase the latest hat, although it might resemble an overturned wastebasket.

Not only the millinery dealers, but practically all of the merchants report an increase in the retail trade, due to the spring stocks being advertised. The department stores have been doing a nice business, as the work of preparing the Easter dresses and garments is on, and nearly every dressmaker in the city is rushed with work. The men are not behind the times, and the clothing stores, with the latest cuts in the suits, have swung their doors wide open, and consequently have enjoyed a good trade. The tailors report a good business with many Easter suits picked out and laid away.

Seed dealers have been doing a rushing business this week. The farmers have begun to prepare the ground for crops. Much corn has been sold and the corn bread supply promises to be good, although the price of wheat and corn is soaring skyward. A good demand is had for every variety of seed.

BISHOP BOSS ABOUT WELL.
Will Leave for Home in Nashville Next Week.

Baltimore, Md., March 27.—Bishop E. E. Hoss, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, who has been confined to the Johns-Hopkins hospital for the past two months, where he underwent an operation for internal trouble, will leave that institution next Monday. Arrangements are now being made for his removal by his son, Dr. Sesser Hoss. The bishop has almost fully recovered from his illness.

COLORED WATCHMAN HAS OASIS AT HIS CROSSING.
The city would be more beautiful if the property owners would follow the example of Berno Moffett, colored who is the watchman in the tower on Tennessee street for the purpose of operating the automatic gates. Although most of the day is spent by Moffett in his tower, watching trains and lowering the gates when there is danger, he has found time to improve the ground around the base of the tower. He has spaded the ground and this morning planted flowers. Around the space he has placed small pieces of stone in an attractive manner. This summer the little garden will be an oasis in the bare railroad yards.

ODD FELLOWS

WILL DECIDE ON WHAT COURSE TO PURSUE.

May Hold General Celebration of Anniversary in This City.

It will be decided tomorrow morning whether the 130th anniversary of the Odd Fellows will be celebrated in Paducah by the three lodges alone, or whether the celebration will be on a more extensive scale and have the Odd Fellows from Cairo, Metropolis, Mound City, Ill., Mayfield and other surrounding towns in attendance. Paducah entertained the lodges last year and this year the meeting was scheduled for Mound City, but owing to a serious fire in the business district the meeting will not be held. There are three lodges in Paducah, Mankin, Ingleside and Mechanicsburg, and each lodge has selected three members, who will meet tomorrow morning and as a committee decide on what scale the anniversary will be celebrated.

Few Changes Being Made in Payne Bill Schedules by Republicans on Ways and Means in Upper House

Nick Longworth Defends Measure as Fulfillment of Republican Promises—Democrat Condemns.

Washington, March 27.—"The Payne bill reduces the duty 5 points for every point increased, and reduces it 15 points for every point increased except for revenue purposes alone," said Longworth, of Ohio, in the house today. "It fulfills the Republican campaign pledge," he says. He denounced the minority's wall of no opportunity to frame the bill as absurd.

Harrison, of New York said: "Let the Republicans exchange the senseless 'full dinner pail' cry for the sago empty coffee pot. It would force the poor man to pay a coffee tax."

Senate Committee.

Contrary to the general belief that the senate finance committee would make an enormous number of changes in the house tariff bill, few have been adopted so far. In the majority of cases the Dingley rates have been restored. The Republican membership is working in harmony, despite differences because of geographical alignments. Democratic members of the senate committee will not be consulted until the day before it is reported to the senate.

Opinion Prohibition.

Washington, March 27.—The treasury department today completed regulations for executing the law, prohibiting the importation of opium or preparations into the United States, except for medicinal purposes. Porto Rico and Hawaii are included. This action is under authorization of congress.

Vote on Payne Bill.

Washington, March 27.—According to present plans of the ways and means committee and leaders of the house, they will take a vote on the Payne tariff bill April 10, following the taking of the vote on the most opposed schedules. Republicans say 75 Democrats agreed to vote for the bill, providing a separate vote on a few schedules is taken.

Suits Filed in Circuit Court.

Bern T. Frank filed an amended petition to his suit against H. V. Sherrill and others this morning. Frank alleges that he purchased "Blackwood," a race horse, and that the horse was guaranteed as having a mark of 2:13 1/4, but that he failed to show that gait. He says that he spent over $2,000 in giving the horse an opportunity to show his worth and to make the mark, but that he was unable to trot that fast. He sues for $3,875.50.

IN AND OUT WINDOWS.
Whether A. Darden, alias Atlaw, and James Legg, arrested by Patrolmen Stewart, Morris and Gourieux, are trick cottage performers, pals, or strangers, Darden was most unfortunate. It is charged that he and his wife made a sensational escape from Alton's boarding house by throwing their baggage out of the window and themselves after it, leaving an unpaid board bill. They found lodgings in a house at Fourth and Washington streets, where, it is alleged Legg got in a window and was ransacking Darden's pocket, when Darden caught him and they were arrested for fighting. Legg was fined $10. Atlaw was fined $25 for beating a board bill.

Loose Leaf Sales.

Tobacco sales at Bohmer's loose leaf warehouse this morning were 45,000 pounds, mostly Tennessee river tobacco. Prices ranged from $3.60 to $9.25. There were no rejections this morning.

May Be Married Yet.

Seattle, March 27.—It is believed Gungiro Aoki, alleged nephew of General Aoki, and Helen Gladys Emery, daughter of the Episcopal archdeacon of California, got a license and will be married in this city or in a suburb. Miss Emery and her mother registered at the Savoy hotel. Aoki is a guest of Japanese friends here.

William T. Carr.

Mr. William T. Carr, 39 years old, died last night at 8:30 o'clock after an illness of several months of consumption, at his home, 1425 Burnett street. Mr. Carr was born and reared in Trig county and came to this city ten years ago. He was a carpenter by trade. He was a member of the Macabees. Mr. Carr is survived by his wife, one daughter four years old, his father, Mr. Charles Carr, and one sister, Miss Elsie Carr. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Burning Grass.

Grass burning on a vacant lot near Seventh street and Kentucky avenue was the occasion for an alarm to the fire department yesterday afternoon. Hose companies Nos. 1 and 3 and truck company No. 4 responded, but the fire was extinguished with a bucket of water. A street car was standing at Fourth street and Broadway and the street was crowded when the fire wagons passed. Several people barely cleared the street before the wagons passed.

KING PETER FEARS TO ACCEPT PRINCE'S RENUNCIATION OF RIGHT OF SUCCESSION

Vienna, March 27.—The popularity of Prince George with the jingoes of Servia is responsible for his withdrawal of his letter in renunciation of the throne, say the diplomats today. Peter would have accepted the resignation and named his son, Alexander, if he dared to invite the enmity of the war party. The official statement of the withdrawal of the letter is not made, but it is believed certain such action will be taken.

GENTRY BROTHERS WILL OPEN THEIR SHOW HERE.

Gentry Brothers' Shows United, the greatest dog and pony aggregation in the country, will be in Paducah for two performances next Saturday afternoon and night. The performance here will be the first of the season. The shows will arrive Thursday and be here for three days. Gentry's shows have always been popular in Paducah. They have been coming here for years, and each succeeding season have had a better show than the year before. This year will be no exception.

HEALTH OFFICER WILL PROSECUTE HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Tuberculosis Ordinance Will be Enforced and Physicians Must Comply.

Otherwise Prosecution Will Follow.

WILL NOT ADOPT HARSH RULES.

City Health Officer Dr. H. P. Sights announced today that he will begin enforcing the tuberculosis ordinance, which classifies tuberculosis as a contagious disease. Dr. Sights said he will not make the ordinance any more onerous than circumstances demand for the protection of the lives of citizens. He said he realizes the fact that to have a house placarded for months, when there is a case of tuberculosis within, is distasteful; but he thinks the health officer should be given information so that he can investigate and exercise discretion. He realizes that this must first be a campaign of education, so it is probable that in cases, where proper precautions are observed by the family, they will not be harassed by extreme measures.

Physicians, however, must promptly report all cases, and fumigation will be required after a case has been in a house. Dr. Sights also will require the reporting of births, both by physicians and midwives. The federal government has called for a census, but none can be given back of 1909. This year Dr. Sights is endeavoring to keep a record, though he is not meeting with proper cooperation. Physicians and midwives can call him by phone and make reports.

Tuberculosis Ordinance.

Following is a copy of the tuberculosis ordinance:

Be it ordained by the general council of the city of Paducah, Kentucky:

Section 1. That tuberculosis is hereby declared to be an infectious and communicable disease, dangerous to the public health.

Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of every physician in the city of Paducah to report to the board of health of this city, in writing, the name, age, sex, occupation and address of every person having tuberculosis, who is now under the care of such physician, and such physician shall likewise hereafter report upon such case of tuberculosis that shall come under the observation of such physician for the first time, within one week of such time.

See. 3. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners or managers, or the principal superintendent or physician, in charge of every public or private institution, dispensary or hospital, in the city of Paducah, to report to the board of health, in writing, the name, age, sex and occupation and last previous address of every person infected with tuberculosis, who is now in their care, or who shall hereafter come under observation for the first time, within one week of such time.

See. 4. In case of vacation of any apartments or premises by death from tuberculosis, or by the removal thereof from a person or persons infected with tuberculosis, it shall be the duty of the person in charge, or of the physician in charge, to notify the board of health, aforesaid, of such removal, within twenty-four hours thereafter, and such apartments or premises so vacated shall not again be occupied until duly renovated and disinfected as hereinabove provided.

See. 5. In case of the vacation of any premises or apartments, as set out in section 4 hereof, the board of health, or an authorized representative thereof, shall immediately visit said premises and shall order and direct that such premises or apartments and all infected articles therein be properly and suitably disinfected.

In case there shall be no remaining occupants in such premises or apartments and same shall be vacant, then the board of health shall cause a notice in writing to be served upon the owner, or the agent of the owner of such premises or apartments, ordering the renovation and disinfection of such premises or apartments, under the direction of and in conformity with the regulations of the local department of health.

Sec. 6. In case any orders or directions of the board of health requiring the disinfection of any articles, premises or apartments, as hereinabove provided, shall not be complied with, within thirty-six (36) hours after such orders or directions shall be given, then it shall be the duty of the board of health to cause a placard in words and form as follows, to be placed upon the door of the infected apartments, or premises, to wit:

Notice.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease. These apartments have been occupied by a consumptive and may have been infected. They must not be occupied until the order of the board of health directing their renovation and disinfection has been complied with.

This notice must not be removed under penalty of law except by the board of health or an authorized officer. And such placard shall not be removed until such time as the order or directions of the board of health shall have been complied with and the removal of such placard authorized by the board of health.

Sec. 7. That any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, and any person who, without written authority from the board of health, shall remove or induce another to remove any placard placed upon premises or apartments, as is hereinabove provided, shall upon conviction thereof, be subject to fine not less than five dollars ($5) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100).

Sec. 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Call of Health Officer.

Health Officer Sights' address to physicians:

"It is very necessary for the health officer to have the co-operation of every physician in the city in order to make the above ordinance effective. And I appeal to the medical profession to aid me in the war against this dreadful disease. I am sure you will not appeal in vain, for the physicians of Paducah have always come forward in any movement for the protection of health, or saving of life. And as this ordinance requires them by law to protect their patients, as well as the public, I feel that we will begin a victorious campaign against this disease that destroyed the life of fifty-eight of our citizens last year, and a million and a half people in the world. For there is no greater field for merit to themselves and protection to humanity, before the profession of medicine. Let every physician do his or her best for the citizens of Paducah, and to drive the greatest enemy to health out of our city. I request this as your health officer."

He also said:

"All persons whose duty it is to report births, but fail to do so, will be prosecuted by the board of health. This includes midwives."

A lively fight is on for the position of postmaster, which is vacant, owing to the resignation of Peter Livergood. There are several applicants for the job, although J. G. Edwards has the inside track.

Lewis Pleased

Indianapolis, March 27.—President Lewis, of the miners, says no date has yet been fixed for the conference of miners and anthracite operators to consider demands formulated at the Scranton convention. Lewis is greatly pleased with the outcome of the convention. He refuses to say whether he thinks there will be a strike, but he appears to consider the situation well in hand.

Adam Ryscavage, John McElhaney

and John Fahey, from the anthracite field, were summoned and arrived to day to give the anthracite trouble

New York, March 27.—Not since the repeal of the Horton law which stopped hisistic bouts in this city, has a fast and furious contest been seen here in a squared circle as that in which Stanley Ketchell, middle-weight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia.

Many thought that O'Brien would do some "stalling" in this fight, but everyone who saw the fight was agreeably surprised for it was a hot bout from start to finish.

In the final round O'Brien was knocked down three times, and the last time was practically a clean knockout, for the timely clang of the gong found the Philadelphian in a hopeless state. It was Ketchell's fight for the greater part of the contest and O'Brien has no excuse to make over the outcome.

The tenth and last round was one that attracted the most attention. At the very opening of this round Ketchell sent two left-hoops to the jaw which forced O'Brien to clinch. O'Brien could do little more than block and clinch at this stage. O'Brien tried his left jab and slowed Ketchell up a bit.

Right and left swings to the jaw from Ketchell sent O'Brien to the floor for five seconds and he went down from a right swing to the jaw for nine seconds. Two more smashes on the jaw, a left uppercut and a right swing sent O'Brien down again for four seconds before the bell ended the bout. This saved O'Brien from a knockout.

News of Theatres

When Paducah took "Mime, Butterfy" to its arms and demonstrated that it appreciated and would liberally patronize grand opera, the management of the Kentucky planned to bring a musical attraction of the first grade to Paducah each season if possible to secure it. It is not easy to induce such organizations to visit cities of less than one hundred thousand on account of the expense and risk. Early in the current season a contract was made for the appearance of Miss Nordica at The Kentucky, but a change in her plans caused its cancellation. Then an arrangement was made involving a big guarantee with the San Carlos Opera company, of which Alice Neilson is the star, but business conditions in the south caused the company to change its route before the Paducah engagement. Notwithstanding these disappointments the management has been on the alert for something unusual of the kind, and word just received from Mr. M. J. Carney, who is now in the east, indicates that positive announcement will be made within a few days of the engagement of a grand opera company of note which will give one performance of "Faust" or "Il Trovatore" at The Kentucky about the middle of April.

Boyle Woolfolk, who comes to the Kentucky Thursday night with Murray and Mack, has many friends in Paducah, won two years ago when he presented one of his clever musical plays in Paducah with local amateurs at The Kentucky, and gave one of the smartest and most successful amateur performances ever seen in Paducah. Mr. Woolfolk is the author of the lyrics and music of "The Sunny Side of Broadway," while the dialogue is by Gene Walters, author of "Paid in Full," probably the most successful serious drama of the past two seasons. While not in the east of "The Sunny Side of Broadway," Mr. Woolfolk will appear in the second act and sing his famous Dixie Daisies, assisted by the entire chorus and will conduct the overture a medley of his latest song successes, which are being sung today throughout the country.

Among Boyle Woolfolk's noted song successes in "The Sunny Side of Broadway" are "Meet Me at the Stage Door, Johnnie," "Every Town Has Its Broadway," and "Dixie Daisies," which have gained a wide popularity and netted their author a comfortable sum in royalties.

The Nashville Banner says: "It has been a long while since a political play has come to the Vendome in which the ideals of the young man in public life have been given a more creditable and a more capable expression than in George Broadhurst's "The Man of the Hour," presented to only a moderately filled house last night. "The Man of the Hour" is not only a clever work—it is a great work; and in these parous times, even though much raking has become somewhat discredited the success of the young man in politics who overcomes the bewilderingly intricate and powerful obstacles placed in his path by graft and wins a victory for decent and honest municipal government is still easily one of the most powerful and gripping subjects to which the stage can lend expression. There is much in "The Man of the Hour" to interest the casual theater-goer whose only purpose and only desire is to be amused—but there is more in Broadhurst's play to interest the student of modern politics, and to teach the young idealist a lesson, without being too Nathaniel Hawthorne-esque."

The play was here last year and made an unusual hit with local theatergoers.

Tuesday night, the 30th, the Wagenhals and Kemper production of "Paid in Full" will be presented. This play contains four great acts and was written by Eugene Walter. For his theme Mr. Walter has taken a great moral issue in our American life and his treatment, development and characterization is said to be stamped with an amazing candor and frankness. Cut and dried rules for playwriting have been cast aside and he has proceeded on the belief that red blood, bone and sinew of which we of this world are constituted; our thoughts, deeds and emotions form a pretty fair basis for a play. Mr. Walter makes a determined attack and the unusual aspect of his own play has won him success. In part the theme of "Paid in Full" may be described as delicate, but the author deals with it truthfully and naturally. His dialogue is the understandable vocabulary of the hour and he has adroitly knitted together a most consistent chain of incidents. In the character of Joseph Brooks he has an individual with socialistic tendencies and without an egotist. His heart is filled with sufficient hatred because his employer does not favor him in the wage matter as generously as he does other workers and in a moment of recklessness he becomes an embezzler and then sets up his wife and himself in a lavishly appointed apartment. In an effort to win back part of his stolen gains he "plays the ponies" and goes deeper into the mire with the inevitable result—discovery. In Brooks, Mr. Walter has written a wondrous character, likewise in the persons of Captain Williams, Jimmy Smith and Emma Brooks, characters so natural and lifelike as to be wholly unusual.

"The Sunny Side of Broadway," which is the title of the attraction offered by Murray & Mack, could have been called the "Funny Side of Broadway" with the same appropriateness, as it is nothing but fun intermingled with catchy songs from start to finish. The first act shows Columbus Circle in New York with beautiful Central Park in the background, and the second act depicts the beautiful Yale Campus at New Haven, Conn. In addition to the elaborate stage settings the production is equipped with many novelties and electrical effects. Among these is the wonderful facsimile, the latest invention in stage and electrical contrivances. There are only three of these machines in use, one in London, one at the New York Hippodrome and one in "The Sunny Side of Broadway."

The attraction will play at The Kentucky theater next Thursday night, April 1.

If the demands of the Women's Social and Political Union of England are conceded about a million and a half women will have the vote.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibres and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin afflictions are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acrid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering, and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, building up the weak, acrid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. These applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S.S.S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

The Department of Education of the Woman's club, Mrs. Henry C. Overby, chairman, will present Dr. W. H. Bartholomew, of Louisville, at its open meeting on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the club house.

Dr. Bartholomew is principal of the Girl's High School, in Louisville, and enjoys a national reputation as an educator and a man of culture. He will speak on "The Child" and should be heard by all who are in any way interested in child-rearing. A program will precede Dr. Bartholomew's lecture, and the teachers of the city schools who can not be present as early as 3:30 o'clock will be able to get there before the lecture begins.

The program for the afternoon will be:

Honor Story—Miss Lucy Overby.
Vocal Solo—Miss Faith Langstaff.
Honor Oration—Miss Clara Smith.

Second Evening Recital April 6.

The Matinee Musical club will give the second of the series of charming evening recitals on Tuesday, April 6, at the Woman's club house. The program will be "Enoch Arden," read by Miss Aline Bagby to an accompaniment of Strauss music played by Miss Virginia Newell.

A Poem of Faith.

Perhaps, few of the friends of the gifted Flora May Clark Young knew that she was unusually clever with her pen, they were so accustomed to think of her talents in commensuration with her success on the stage. Many beautiful little poems were

LESS MEAT

Advice of Family Physician.

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular vigor.

The man who worked hard was supposed to require meat two or three times a day. Science has found out differently.

It is now a common thing for the family physician to order less meat, as in the following letter from a N.Y. man.

"I had suffered for years with dyspepsia and nervousness. My physician advised me to eat less meat and greasy foods generally. I tried several things to take the place of my usual breakfast of chops, fried potatoes, etc., but got no relief until I tried Grape-Nuts food."

"After using Grape-Nuts for the several part of my meals for two years, I am now a well man. Grape-Nuts benefited my health far more than the $500.00 worth of medicine I had taken before."

"My wife and children are healthier than they had been for years, and we are a very happy family, largely due to Grape-Nuts."

"We have been so much benefited by Grape-Nuts that it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Dead "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Absence invigorates strong intimacies.—Roche Foucauld.

The mere fact that is universally recommended for Consumption is proof positive that it is the most energizing and strengthening preparation in the world.

SATURDAY—The Art department of the Woman's club will meet at 10 a.m. at the club house. The Barbizon School of Painting will be discussed as follows:

Paper—"The Barbizon School—Mrs. John Dorian.

Jean Baptiste Corot, 1796-1873—Miss Frances Gould.

Theodore Rousseau, 1812-1867—Miss Jennie Gilson.

Jean Francois Millet, 1814-1875—Miss Compton.

Reading, "The Man With the Hoe" (Markham)—Miss Anna Bird Stewart.

Wedding of Miss Martin and Mr. Jonson Will Be a Charming Home Ceremony.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Martin to Mr. William Crawford Jonson, of Greenville, Ky., will take place Monday evening at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander Martin, 1109 Jefferson street.

The ceremony will be pronounced by the Rev. Grant T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church.

Daily Thought.

"Sympathy and kindness are never wasted; if they have no effect on the recipient they at least benefit the bestower."

Not the severity of the punishment, but the certainty and promptness of it, are the best discouragers of crime.

JUVENILE COURT.

The theory of the juvenile court is to see the cause of evil tendencies in children and correct them. If it is bad home influence, not to remove the from home, if the home can be improved; if the trouble is disease or starvation, remedy it; if unhealthy tenements are discovered, compel improvement; if the parents are delinquent, take charge of the parents. Breaking up homes and sending children away from them are bad both for the parents and the children. Realization of responsibility for a growing generation is a great moral force. It's a mighty poor home that isn't better than a good institution. Make the home better, is the demand on the juvenile court. That is why probation officers, men and women of various religious denominations and nationalities are required, to keep in touch with the home life and conduct of the wards of the court. When the juvenile court is more generally understood, McCracken county will insist on having one.

WASTE OF A CITY GOVERNMENT.

If Mayor Smith (or any other capable business man with experience, who would devote his time to public business) were given authority to take charge of the city's affairs during his term of office and operate it, subject to recall and the initiative and referendum in certain contingencies, he could save the city $10,000 a year. Personal observation of municipal affairs under the present administration has disclosed to us the fact that time and time again, when the mayor would have adopted some common sense, business expedient that would result in saving money or earning it for the city, he has been confronted by lack of authority, and the necessity of awaiting the action of some other department. Lately the administration has encountered in the general council a spirit of antagonism, that crops out in a desire to hinder every effort to benefit the city, lest the mayor win popular approval for his conduct of the city's affairs. The friction is causing the city thousands of dollars.

At this very moment, because there is a split in the general council over the office of license inspector, and in spite of the fact that the court has decided one man is elected, and the general council appropriated a salary for the office, payment has been refused and the city has "tied up" to the present time since January 1, approximately $6,000, that never will be collected.

A municipal government is different from the state and nation. It is a development of modern social life, and no part of the original theory of popular government. The necessity for protection of life, property and health in densely populated communities, is the one excuse for a municipal government. It should be operated as economically, equitably and beneficially as possible, and the only consideration that should guide us in the selection of a form of government, is practicability in view of these three ends.

Are we not tired of municipal waste and graft? Are we not disgusted with petty politics? Are we not disheartened over the immunity bath administered to Sunday violators and blind tiger operators? Do not tax payers begin to think it is time for their taxes to be spent for their benefit?

The trouble with our present system is divided responsibility. It enables shirkers to hide behind some one else; it enables corruptionists to shift the blame; it discourages men, who know how and would like to do their duty; it prevents citizens from fully understanding the operations of their government and directing their reforms effectively. Legislative tampering is an offspring of the system; with authority and responsibility properly concentrated, the temptation will be removed from the politicians.

Des Moines, Iowa, which has been trying the commission system of government, formerly ran behind $50,000 annually. The report for the first report under the commission shows that the city saved money. How would that suit the gentlemen, who were indignant because it was necessary to increase their licenses in order to cure the city of the deficit habit, into which she had fallen, and to meet the pressing demand for moderate improvements?

Think it over. If the burden is grievous enough to warrant you in fighting against the result of a bad system, isn't it grievous enough to warrant you in going to the root of the trouble and eliminating that?

THE SPECTATOR.

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

The railroad commissioners of the state have come and gone, and left behind them the news that the Union station is in excellent condition. The officials, way up in G of the I. C. R. R., have been here and held a love-feast with some of our citizens. But never a twitter as to the palpable fact that the I. C. R. R. Union station is absolutely inadequate to the needs of our city, and very possibly one of the draw backs to our growth.

The Spectator had to meet a friend coming in on the evening train. The night was cold and a drizzling rain was falling. As the street car deposited him at the station, he, with many others stepped out into a mud puddle nearly up to shoe tops. From that mud puddle he hurried through the rain, wriggling his way through trucks laden with baggage and express matter of various size and shape to the waiting room. This was crowded with men, women, children, foul air and odors—odors from tobacco, odors from foul air, odors from the kitchen of the lunch room, odors perceptible from the toilet room. On one side of this room was a narrow passage, leading to the lunch room, and there were benches lining one side of this hallway, it was labelled smoking room, but the smoking was being done out in the main room, in the company of women and children. On the other side of this main room was one about fifteen feet square, intended for the women, but absolutely inadequate for their numbers, to say nothing of their needs. To escape all this meant to step out into the open air, in the rain, without a shed of any description overhead.

Finally the train pulled in, forty or more passengers dismounted into the rain without protection of any sort, while forty or more other passengers stood in the rain waiting for an opportunity to embark. All this in a city, which in point of amount of freight and express hauled and number of passengers handled, ranks as the third station on the division of the Illinois Central railroad. No wonder The Spectator was dumb when his friend growled disgustedly, "This is the bummet town ever,—what is the matter with you people that you stand for this?" Well, why do we stand for it?

The commissioners have issued their fiat that the condition of the station is good,—but? Let a protest be sent in signed by any number of reputable citizens, stating this grievance and asking for redress, and the Lawyer Friend of The Spectator assures him that said commissioners will have to take heed and the road will have to build something adequate to our needs. Is a tenth rate station sufficient for a first-class town? Let us get a move on us, as we did about the downtown office for both the roads.

FERMENTATION AND UNDIGESTED FOOD

Rid Yourself of Stomach Troubles Forever With Diapepsin.

Some people think they have Indigestion, others Catarrh of the Stomach, others Nervousness, Cancer or Dyspepsia, etc. Call it this if you will, but the real name of your trouble is Food Fermentation, with only partial digestion. Everything you eat turns to either Acid, Stomach gas or Stomach poison, which weaken the digestive organs, causing a lack of gastric juice. Your food soups, is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, burning sensation, a feeling of vomiting, heartburn, water brash and tenderness in the pit of the stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, nausea, belching of gas, dizziness, sick headaches, mental depression and many other common symptoms.

You can cure all this by not eating, by not putting any food in your stomach to ferment; but how about the nourishment needed to sustain your bodily strength? If you are a stomach sufferer, either man or woman, young or old, whether you call it Indigestion or any other name, go now to your druggist and give 50 cents for a case of Page's Diapepsin:

Every possible kind of Stomach trouble is readily cured by Diapepsin, which takes right hold of the food in your stomach and digests it alone, without the help of the stomach, just as if your stomach wasn't there.

After a few days' use of Diapepsin your Stomach will again be in good working order, your meals will thoroughly digest and your intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will have no use for laxatives or liver regula-

IS HE MURDERER OF SPEICKERT?

Negro Captured at Mounds is Believed to be.

Placed in Mound City Jail and Taken to Mounds Yesterday Afternoon for Identification.

HIS WIFE GIVES HIM AWAY.

Cairo, Ill., March 27.—It is now believed that the murderer of Charles Speickert, the Illinois Central employee, who was killed at Mounds several months ago, has been captured.

It is said that the negro arrested had been living in Mounds for some time. His wife, with whom he had a quarrel several days ago, told the authorities that her husband was the murderer of Speickert. The negro was arrested and taken to the Mound City jail and yesterday was taken back to Mounds for identification by the young man who received the pay check.

The Illinois Central detective force have been working on the case for some time and made one arrest some time ago of a negro who it was found later was not the guilty party.

The local police had heard nothing about the matter except that a negro had been captured at Mounds who was believed to be the murderer.

NEWS OF COURTS

Police Court.

A PRETTY COMBINATION.
The garment illustrated is particularly desirable for stout figures, as the corset cover and short petticoat are in one. At the back they are fitted with a single seam at the center, and at the front the fullness is kept in place by a band of heading through which ribbon is run. The skirt is sufficiently wide to be comfortable, but so arranged as to do away with any unnecessary material. The trimming employed should depend upon the material used for the garment. For everyday wear, Swiss or Hamburg embroidery will be most satisfactory.

2950.—This pattern is cut in 9 sizes from 32 to 48 inches bust measure. To copy it for the average person, it requires 2½ yards of material 36 inches wide, 3½ yards wide edging, ¾ yards of narrow edging.
Price, 10 Cents.

These patterns will be supplied by The Sun for 10 cents each.

Interesting Debate.

"Resolved that he who plants a tree does more good for the world than he who builds a house," was the subject of an interesting debate yesterday afternoon by the students of the B. freshman class of the High school. The affirmative side secured the decision, and was defended by Pittman Harth, Armour Gardner

DES MOINES LIKES COMMISSION RULE

First Year of Plan Proves Most Economical.

City Hall No Longer a Loafing Place for Politicians, but Business House.

SOCIAL EVIL IS DRIVEN OUT.

Des Moines, Ia., March 27.—Des Moines' first year under the commission form of government ends next Wednesday, after twelve months of what everybody considers the most efficient and economical conduct of municipal affairs the city ever has experienced.

For the second time in its history Des Moines has lived within its income. Starting under the handicap of a $180,000 debt left by former administrations, the commission will end the year without exceeding a single appropriation, and with money left over in several of the funds. Old debts were paid off by a bond issue, but none of the money derived from the sale of bonds was used in paying current expenses.

Not only has the city been managed more economically than ever before, but more efficient service has been rendered in every department. The streets have been kept clean, paving has been laid according to contract, civil service has been installed in all departments, the efficacy of the police department has been increased, a new system of accounting has been installed—in fact, the entire municipal government has been placed on a business basis.

Chicago Tract Plan Favored.
Perhaps the most valuable achievements of the new administration have been its dealing with public service corporations. By an agreement with the electric light company the rates on street lights were reduced from $75 to $65 a year, under an all night schedule, instead of a moonlight schedule.

An ordinance was passed reducing the water rates from 30 to 20 cents per thousand gallons, but the company enjoined the new rates from going into effect. President Payson, of the water company is in the city now from Portland, Me., with the view of reaching an agreement with the city.

Negotiations were well under way with the street car company for the adoption of the Chicago profit sharing plan and it is probable that the city soon will have an interest in the street car company.

Rates on gas street lights, which were arbitrarily raised by the former council, have been reduced to the old figure by the present council.

One of the first things the new council did was to require banks to pay interest on city funds. Since that time all the city's cash has been drawing interest of from 2 to 4 per cent, amounting to several hundred dollars a year.

Social Evils Are Eliminated.
The most spectacular of the reforms instituted under the new administration was the wiping out of the "red light district" by Councilman J. L. Hamery, who is head of the department of public safety. He issued an order notifying keepers of immoral houses that they could not operate in Des Moines after September 15. On that day every such house was vacated.

Slot machines have been driven out by Supt. Hamery, and it is generally conceded that Des Moines is one of the most orderly towns in the country. Saloons are required to live strictly up to the letter of the state law.

Along with suppressing disreputable houses the city has broken up the "bond shark" business. Indeed, it was the practices of the "bond sharks" which led to the suppression of the "red light district". The bondsmen had the women of the underworld at their mercy. Finally the "sharks" grew so bold that they had the women arrested at frequent intervals in order to secure the commission for going on their bonds.

Supt. Hamery decided that the two evils were inseparable. As a result professional bondsmen are now doing only legitimate business in the police court.

Twenty Year Quarrel Ended.

Among the accomplishments of the new administration might be mentioned the agreement with the railroads for the building of the viaduct, over which the city and the roads have been quarreling for twenty years. Plans have been accepted and work on the structure soon will begin.

The five members of the commission receive combined salaries of $15,600 a year, and it is estimated that enough money has been saved by stopping small wastes, due to loose business methods, to make up that sum. A business system has been introduced in all departments and the city hall has been changed from a loafing place for politicians to a place resembling the offices of a large business concern. An entirely new spirit pervades it.

John MacVicar, member of the council and head of the department of streets and public improvements, is given much credit for the successful launching of the new form of government. He has served two terms as mayor, is secretary of the League of American Municipalities, and a lifelong student of municipal affairs.

Opposition to the commission form of government is rapidly melting away in Des Moines. The people generally are satisfied with the results achieved so far and prefer a business management of municipal affairs to the old haphazard system of divided responsibility and carelessness manner of transacting public business.

So far politics has not entered into the conduct of city affairs, and the prediction that the members of the commission would use their extraordinary powers to build up a powerful political machine has not been fulfilled.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence.

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more.

Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

GIVE THE FACTS.

Vice President of Illinois Central Railroad says.

Jackson, Tenn., March 27.—I have found that the best policy to pursue with newspapers is to give them the facts in reference to business deals or wrecks. It is better that accurate publicity be given these things than to try to withhold the facts and have erroneous stories published in reference to same," said I. G. Rawl, vice president of the Illinois Central railroad, who was in the city today. Chester Bond, the attorney for the company in this city, who was present, said that he agreed with Mr. Rawl's statement.

A Gentleman From Mississippi

By THOMAS A. WISE

Novelized From the Play by Frederick R. Toombs

COPYRIGHT, 1902, BY THOMAS A. WISE

"Why do you so hesitate, Senator Langdon?" she finally asked in low voice, just loud enough for the two girls to overhear.

The junior senator from Mississippi looked at his hostess. She had entertained him and had done much for his daughters in Washington. She was alone in the world—a widow. He felt that he could not shame her before Carolina and Hope Georgia. His southern chivalry would not permit that.

Then, too, she was a most charming person, and the thought, "Why not take her at her word?" crept into his mind.

"Yes, father, why do you hesitate?" asked Carolina.

Senator Langdon mustered his voice into service at last.

"I've been thinking," he said slowly, "that—"

"That your daughters did not know," interrupted Mrs. Spangler, "of our—" "

"The telephone—upstairs—is ringing, madam," said a maid who had entered to Mrs. Spangler.

The adventures could not leave the senator and his daughters alone, though she knew it must be Peabody calling her. At any moment he might remember his speech and leave. Already late, he would still be later, though, because he would have no carriage—hers would purposely be delayed.

"Tell the person speaking that you are empowered to bring me any message—that I cannot leave the dining hall," she said to the maid.

To gain time and to hold the senator's attention Mrs. Spangler asked slowly:

"Well, senator, what was it that you were going to say when I interrupted you a few moments ago?"

Langdon had been racking his brain for some inspiration that would enable him to save the feelings of his hostess and yet indicate his position clearly. He would not commit himself in any way. He would jump up and pronounce her an impostor first.

After a moment of silence his clouded face cleared.

"Mrs. Spangler," he began, "your announcement today I have considered to be—"

"Premature," she suggested.

The maid returned.

"Mr. Wall says Senator Langdon is wanted at once at the capitol."

"Great heavens!" exclaimed Langdon, springing to his feet and glancing at the clock. "I'm late, I'm late! I hope to God I'm not too late!"

"Mr. Wall says a carriage is coming for Senator Langdon," concluded the maid.

"We must talk this matter over some other time, Mrs. Spangler," the Mississippian cried as he sent a servant for his hat and coat. "I hope that carriage hurries, else I'll try it on the run for the capital."

"It's a half hour away on foot," said Mrs. Spangler. "Better wait. You'll save time."

But to herself she muttered as though mystified:

"I wonder why Peabody changed his mind so suddenly? Why should he now want the old fool at the capital?"

The rumble of wheels was heard outside.

"Hurry, father!" cried Hope Georgia.

The senator hurried down the stone steps of Mrs. Spangler's residence as rapidly as his weight and the excitement under which he labored would permit. Opening the coach door, he plunged inside to come face to face with Bud Haines, who had huddled down in a corner to avoid observation from the Spangler windows. The driver started his horses off on a run.

Struggling to regain his breath, the senator cried:

"Well, what are—"

"Never mind now. But first gather in all I say, senator, as we've no time to lose. When I couldn't locate you and I saw you probably wouldn't be at the senate chamber in time to make your speech on the naval base bill I persuaded Senator Milbank of Arkansas to rise and make a speech on the currency question, which subject was in order. He was under obligation to me for some important information I once obtained for him, and he consented to keep the floor until you arrived, though he knew he would earn the vengeance of Peabody. That was over an hour and a half ago. He must be reading quotations from 'Pilgrim's Progress' to the senate by now to keep the floor."

Bud paused to look at his watch.

The senator stretched his head out of the window and cried, "Drive faster!"

"Got your speech all right?" called Bud above the din of the rattling wheels.

TROUTMAN SAYS HE IS A VICTIM

Did Not Ruin His Thirteen-Year Old Girl.

Arrested in Illinois On a Warrant Sworn Out By His Daughter.

HE HAD MARRIED ONCE MORE

After a chase of several weeks, Manuel Troutman, a laborer, was arrested in Cairo yesterday afternoon on the inhuman charge of ruining his own daughter, Carrie Troutman, 13 years old. Troutman contends he is the victim of a scheme and innocent. He was brought to Paducah last night from Cairo, and was placed in the county jail. Troutman readily agreed to accompany Detective T. J. Moore to Kentucky without requisition papers.

The alleged crime was discovered accidentally. The girl had been wandering the streets, and apparently without a place to call home. She was taken before Magistrate C. W. Emery and after a "sweating," confessed that her father had ruined her.

Troutman is a timber worker, and she says one day in the woods the fiendish crime was committed and that she was warned she would be killed if she ever divulged the secret, which she refused to do until assured of the protection of the court.

Upon her statements a warrant was sworn out against Troutman, her father, charging him with incest. For several weeks the officials have tried to locate him. Soon after the alleged crime Troutman left for Illinois. He was known to be near Cairo, and Detective Moore located Troutman at Diskwood, in Alexandria county. Mr. Moore left the city and had arrested Troutman before it was known he had gone to secure the man.

Troutman was brought to Paducah last night and placed in the county jail. When found Troutman was working in the woods, informed of the warrant, he said it was a mistake, and wanted to go and inform his family. Troutman has been married the second time, having three children by his first wife. He said his daughter was left in Paducah because she and her stepmother could not agree.

The girl has been placed in the home of a family for protection until the examining trial of Troutman is held.

England has 17,000,000 acres of land available for forestation.
